With over 17 million cancer survivors in the US living longer more productive lives, there is a need to support the unique physical and emotional needs for patients during and after treatment. Saint John's Health Center has created the Cancer Supportive Care Program to ensure that cancer patients and survivors have a central resource for coordinated access to the support and services they need to gain and maintain optimal physical and mental health. Join our Support Services team for an in-depth discussion on our program and what is next in Supportive Care.
