

Honoring National Cancer Survivors Day: Join Our Survivorship Resource Fair

Connect with care teams, resources and community to support quality of life after cancer

In honor and celebration of everyone striving to thrive, Providence Saint John's Health Center invites you to a Cancer Survivorship Resource Fair on Tuesday, June 2.

Attendees will find helpful information, resources and meaningful takeaways to support their cancer journey, from diagnosis through treatment and into survivorship. You'll also have the opportunity to meet members of our cancer center clinical teams and meet other people going through treatment.

Featured oncology clinical teams and support services will include:

- Survivorship nurse practitioner
- Psychiatry
- Social work
- Nutrition
- Physical therapy
- Nurse navigation
- Pain management
- Spiritual care and more

Resources and information will be on a range of survivorship topics, including mental health, fatigue, healthy eating, brain fog and sexual health.

Referrals will also be provided for our outside community support partners Cancer Support Community, American Cancer Society, WeSpark and more.

Join us to honor survivorship, build community and gain resources that support continued healing and hope. For more information, call 310-829-8648.
